Fire Door Registered Installer Course

Manufacturers of fire doors are required by law to demonstrate the ability of their products to resist the passage of fire. However, if they are not properly installed, their fire resistance capabilities can be seriously compromised. BM TRADA Q-Mark Registered Fire Door Installers provide reassurance to specifiers, contractors and end users that their chosen product has been installed correctly and will perform as intended.

This training course forms the 2nd Part of the BM TRADA Q-Mark Fire Door Registered Installer course programme. Successful completion of this course is one of the mandatory requirements for being awarded BM TRADA Q-Mark certification.

Designed especially for fire door installers, it covers:

- Installation of a fire door – an in-depth guide
- Door plugging and the Q-Mark certification process
- Q&A session
- Written exam
